THE SCHAUMBERG CASE.—The jury in the case of James W. Schaumberg were brought into court yesterday morning, at 11 o'clock, having been out since Tuesday, at half-past two o'clock. In response to a question by the court, the fore man stated that there was no possibility of their agreeing on a verdict, and—two of them being very unwell—they were then discharged.

Upon the jury retiring to their room on Tues-day, they took a vote which resulted as follows: For Conviction—Messrs. Johnson, Bestor, Davis, Atchison, Plowman, Espey, and Edelin-7. For Acquittal-Messrs. Hines, Brooke, Waugh, Scrivener, and Ball-5. Subsequently, Messrs. Brooke and Waugh changed their votes, expressing their willingness to convict if such should be the judgment of all their fellow-jurors, and the voting consequently varied, never being less than seven nor more than nine for conviction. The last vote taken resulted as follows:

The wife swore most positively that her husband did not lay the weight of his finger upon her, though the neighbors saw and estified differently; and the court directed him to pay a fine of three dollars. DISTRIBUTION OF PREMIUMS .- Notwithstanding the rain yesterday afternoon, the pupils of the chools in the fourth district assembled at the hall of the Smithsonian Institution in large numbers; the distribution of premiums having been arranged for that occasion. Like the boys and girls of other schools who preceded them during the week, and who resorted thither to participate in similar exercises, they appeared neat, and orderly, and cheerful. As blue is the distinguishing color of the schools of the first district; scarlet, of the second; and white, of the third, green is that of the fourth district schools, and the scholars of both sexes had trimmings and a banner accordingy, together with several national flags.

Three addresses were delivered by as many cholars, much to the delight of the audience. In addition to these exercises, there was music by the cornet band and singing by the pupils.

The examinations and distribution of premiums being over, the recess now fairly commences, no doubt to the joy of both scholars and teachers.

The building was entirely consumed, and likewise a large portion of the contents, and the machinery rendered worthless. The estimated loss is between three and four thousand dollars, on which there was an insurance of fifteen hundred dollars.

TROTTING .- The match-race for $200, over the Columbia trotting track, took place yesterday afternoon—two miles and repeat under the saddle Lady Blanche won the prize over Trustee. The rain did not, we learn, detract from the interest of the occasion. PROSPECTUS

WASHINGTON SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON SENTINEL.

I PROPOSE to publish in the city of Washington, in September, a political newspaper, under the name of the Washington Sentinel.

In doing so it is proper I should make known the principles it will maintain and the policy it will advocate.

It will support cordially and earnestly the principles of the Democratic Republican party of the United States. It does not propose to be the organ of any department of the Government, except in so far as an independent maintenance of the doctrines of that party may represent its opinions and express its views.

trines of that party may represent its opinions and express its views.

It will not be ambitious to commend itself to the people by a blind flattery of their rulers. It will seek public support by the bold avowal of the sentiments which are common to the genuine Democracy of the Union, and by the condemnation of all such as may condict with them, from whatever quarter they may come. It will seek to be (and it will endeavor to deserve the title) the organ of the Democratic party of the United States.

The Sentinel will maintain, as a fundamental truth of that great party, that the States formed the Union between them by the ratification of the Constitution as a compact; by which also they created the Federal Government, and delegated to it, as their common agent, the powers expressly specified in it, with an explicit reservation of all others to the States, or to their separate governments. The exercise of any powers beyond those thus delegated is therefore an usurpation of the reserved authority of the States by the agent of their own creation.

The Sentinel will unhold and defend the Union

thus delegated is therefore an usurpation of the reserved authority of the States by the agent of their own creation.

The Sentinel will uphold and defend the Union upon the basis of the rights of the States—under the Constitution—and thus by sedulously guarding the latter it will the more effectually strengthen and perpetuate the former.

With regard to the exercise of the powers of the Federal Government, the Sentinel will take as the principles of its action that Congress shall exercise no power which has not been delegated by the Constitution, according to a strict and fair interpretation of its language and spirit; and that it shall not seek to attain indirectly an object through the exercise of constitutional power, for the direct attainment of which it has no delegation of power. In other words, all powers exercised must be clearly granted, and all granted powers must be used for no purpose except such as is clearly intended by the Constitution.

In respect to the internal administration of the Government the Sentinel will sustain the settled policy of the Democratic party. It will labor to inculcate this cardinal doctrine of Democratic internal policy—that this Government will best promote the freedom and prosperity of the people of the States by being less ambitious to exercise power and more anxious to preserve liberty; and by leaving to the individual States the management of all their domestic concerns—while it contents itself with guarding the Confederacy from external violence, and directing the foreign policy of the country to the promotion of the common interests and defence of the common rights and honor of the States composing it.

The Sentinel will advocate such a progressive ests and defence of the common rights and honor of the States composing it.

The Sentinel will advocate such a progressive foreign policy as will suit itself to the exigencies and correspond with the expanding interests of the country. That policy should be energetic and decided; but should temper firmness with liberality, and make its highest ends consist with the strictest principles of justice. The real interests of the country unpresch occasion demanding at of the country upon each occasion demanding at-earnest foreign policy, such as the condition of the country demands, but it will advocate it under the flag of the country—nowhere else. Its foreign policy must be consistent with the spotless honor and unimpeachable good faith of the country. To be respectable at home and abroad, and to be great in the eyes of the world it must ask for nothing but the eyes of the world, it must ask for nothing but what is right and submit to nothing that is wrong. It must be liberal and magnanimous to the rights of others, and firm and immovable in insisting on its own. It must, in fine, be true to its own interests rights and honor—it cannot then be false to its own. It must, in fine, be true to its own interests, rights, and honor—it cannot then be false to those of other nations.

Such, then, is the chart by which we shall be guided. Independent and free, we shall endeavor to be honest and truthful. The true friends of Democratic principles, we shall cordially support and defend. Itsenemies in the field or in ambush we shall oppose, and on all proper occasions deand defend. Tisenemes in the jame and defend. The sentences in the jame and on all proper occasions denounce.

To our future brethren of the press we extend the hand of friendly greeting. The Sentinel is the rival of no press of its own party—the personal enemy of none of the other.

The present Democratic Administration has our best wishes for its success in the establishment of the great principles upon which it came into power; and in its honest labors to attain such an end it will find the Sentinel its friend and condjutor.
